Case Study 3: Tours and Travel Company

Case Overview

The client is a Netherlands based tours and travel company offering a wide range of services like flight tickets, hotel bookings, car rentals and much more to worldwide destinations. The company at present has a presence in over 17 countries and now wants to tap the Asian market.

The company aims to expand its operations in Asian countries like India, China, Indonesia, Singapore, Philippines and Thailand. Owing to this, the company is looking to register its regional headquarters in Singapore. The company chose Singapore as their head office because of the country's business friendly environment, internet travel penetration, favourable tax regime, ease of setting up business, geographical benefits and right infrastructure.

In order to set up their business in Singapore, the client approached IMC Group.
